ORLEANS. March 16.-Babe Ruth's bludgeon has started on its of the game between the Yankees and the Pelicans here to-day, with all the bases occupied, the mighty mauler drove the ball over the right field fence Three other runs which came New York's way in this same frame gave Hug's men a lead the Pelicans could not overcome, and the final score was to 3 in favor of Gotham.

The Yanks had one of their old time slugging orgies, a total of fifteen hits for twenty-five bases being accumulated. Fred Hoffman emulated the left field fence in the sixth inning and also secured a double in his six innings of play. Wally Pipp collected a triple and a single, Aaron Ward a double singles. It was a disconsolate band of nome rooters when the Yankee bats egan their vicious swinging.

nove that promises to bear fruit. He placed Norman McMillan, the infielder btained from the Rochester club, in the right garden, and Norman more than made good in his strange surroundings. A long running, tumbling catch by this recruit of Knaupp's savage drive in the third inning was the fielding feature of Hits Are Scattered.

Big Jim Jolley also southpawed his way into prominence by giving the best exhibition of twirling that any of the rookie boxmen have shown so far. Jim was the Yankee pitcher for five innings and, although he allowed six hits, they were so scattered as to keep the Pelicans scoreless.

George Quinn, the Virginia Leaguer, who succeeded Jolley, had one bad rame, the seventh, in which the local line made four hits and all their runs, but George didn't do so badly in the other four innings he worked.

Manager Dobbs of the New Orleans team used three pitchers—Thomas and team used the pitchers—Thomas and the fact that Virgil Barnes and Claude Jonnard will remain with the regulars, while Bill Ryan, Pat Shea into made four hits and all their runs, but George didn't do so badly in the other four innings he worked.

Manager Dobbs of the New Orleans team used three pitchers—Thomas and James, southpaws, and Jones, a right-bander. Thomas shut out the Yanks for four innings, but in the frightful fifth, already referred to, he had a grievous experience. James permitted two runs in the two innings he labored on the mound, but Jones sailed through his two frames without any tallies being made against him.

The Yankee fifth was opened by Ward, who drew a pass. On the hit and Tun signal Scott singled to right and Ward raced to third, from where he scored when Thomas threw widdly to first in an effort to catch Scott. Hoffman followed with a double to right, which tallied Scott. Juley tapped to Thomas, who was wild again in his toss to third to head off Hoffman, and dewill have the services of Art Nehf, toss to third to head off Hoffman, and McMillan and everybody was safe. Fewster singled to left, scoring Hofman, and McMillan and everybody was safe. Fewster singled to left, scoring Hofman, and McMillan walked, filling the bags for the coming of Ruth.

third opportunity the Babe has had in the games here to knock a homer, with the bases all occupied, and this time he delivered with a vengeance. The ball cleared the right field wall, with plenty to spare, and was the equivalent of a drive into the right field bleachers at the Polo Grounds.

The Yanks scored one run in the sixth thanks to Hoffman's homer, and one more in the seventh as the result of Pipp's triple and an infield out. The Pelicans gathered their three runs in the sixth on a pass to Ricks, an infield hit by Barbare, on which Baker made a bad throw to first; a single to Meyers, a pass to Gilbert and singles by Knaupp and Foes.

The Yanks are having a picnic with the Pelicans, but their real test is due Saturday when Rogers Hornsby and his bat come to town for a two day stay.

was splked. We believe that Kopf and Berry will be farmed out.

Boone and Stengel May Go.

The selection of Boone and Stengel to go with the seconds may be regarded as significant, as evidence that both have been eliminated in the fight for the open berth in the outfield. Boone is a hitting fool, but lacks polish. He will present a problem to McGraw, and he may stay as a pinch hitter against right handers. He bats from the left side.

The second team will play quite a schedule which will carry it into the Polo Grounds on April 10, when the Giants are slated to play Princeton. The Pecans will close their seasn on April 10 at West Point. They will open in Beaumont on Saturday. The schedule follows:

The report lets out the secret that a boxer is not compelled to have a manager. This may disturb some of the gentlemen who are living soft lives in this occupation.

The commission also points with pride to its silding scale for paying preliminary fighters. The boys are paid only for as many rounds as they last. This is to discourage the habit of kissing the canvas. In fact in the entire report the Boxing Commission finds nothing but good about itself. This is not habit of kissing the canvas. What better day than St. Patrick's to harp on Irish homespuns!

Real homespuns they are, too, for they're both spun and woven in the homes of the peasant folk of Donegal and Conne-

With their rugged texture and their bright, spotty colorings they make unusually attractive golf Norfolks.

Caps to match.
